

Digital content is most effective when:	Teacher actions in the video that promote student learning embedded into an existing programme of learning supported by relevant offline experiences (before and after use) selected according to the needs and interests of the learner (informed by evidence) supported by effective teaching combined with other relevant digital content and learning experiences learners work collaboratively.	